

Ori Shahaar

June 1, 2001 - Ori Shahaar, 32, of Ramat Gan, was one of 21 people killed in a suicide bombing at a Tel Aviv discotheque shortly before midnight on Friday night.

Ori Shahaar, who lived alone and worked as the "house father" at the Geulim community center in Ramat Gan, was out walking near the Dolphinarium, returning to his car, when the bomb exploded. Ramat Gan municipality spokesman Meni Pe'er said Ori was a warm and gracious man, who helped the children at the community center.

Ori is survived by his parents, a sister and two brothers, one of whom lives in the United States.

Ori Shahaar was buried in Kiryat Shaul.

